Three Die In Blast In San Jose

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A bomb-like boiler explosion blew a gaping hole in a downtown store Friday, leaving three persons dead in a maze of rubble and at least 71 injured.

The blast from the 6-foot-high boiler in the basement of J. C. Penney's wrecked a drugstore on the building's main floor and scattered glass and wreckage in the main intersection of this city of 200,000.

City Manager A. P. Hamann said police questioned Ricardo Mello, 27, the boiler maintenance man who was laid off his job less than five hours before the explosion.

Officials would not elaborate on the interrogation.

Another partial mystery was a telephone call reporting boiler trouble minutes before it blew up. The call sent a fire truck to the scene—it arrived one minute after the blast.

The dead were hurled into the pile of wreckage in Penney's basement and into four feet of water which gushed from broken pipes and sprinklers.

Police identified the victims as Mrs. Marie Straight, 55, Campbell, Calif., a clerk in Penney's yardage department, adjacent to the boiler room; Mrs. Florence Caballero, 45, San Jose, and Vernon B. Hinton, 41, San Jose, both customers.

Nine of the injured were reported in serious or critical condition.

Fire Chief Ronald Lebeau estimated damage at more than $100,000.

The blast struck at 4:49 p.m. the height of the rush hour. About 50 persons were in the drug store.

Passenger In State Of Shock

Twenty-three year old Lindal Raymond Cruse, an employe at the Dixon State School, was killed Friday, when he was thrown from the auto which he was driving, when the vehicle went out of control while passing another car on Brinton Avenue near the entrance to the Dixon Country Club.

A passenger in the Cruse auto, Harry McKnight, Lanark, who was 20 Friday, today is in satisfactory condition at KSB Hospital suffering from hysteria. McKnight was not thrown from the vehicle and apparently was unhurt by the crash.

State Police Trooper Robert J. Popkins said the accident occurred when the Cruse auto went out of control while passing another vehicle, driven by Walter Draper, 50, 901 Fourth St. The Cruse auto struck the rear of the Draper vehicle and then spun to the west side of the road, where the rear of the Cruse car collided with a utility pole. The auto was hurled to the east side of the road by the impact. The vehicle then struck a telephone pole on the east side of the road, ripping open the doors on the left side of the vehicle. As the vehicle spun back towards the west side of the road again, Cruse was thrown from the car. The auto came to a halt on the west side of the road against a fence.

Take it from Here

REPORTER'S REFLECTIONS — United States foreign aid since World War II will top $100 billion this year.

The Agency for International Development which administers the aid totalled up the bucks spent between July 1, 1945, and mid-1962. Added up and broken down they revealed, $97.7 billion to 111 countries.

A study committee headed by Gen. Lucius D. Clay set about to decide how well the mammoth expenditure has promoted U.S. security and to determine how it can be refashioned to do a better job.

President John F. Kennedy has just received the report.

A survey of what countries have dipped into U.S. coffers most is interesting.

Topping the list is France to a tune of $9.4 billion, followed by Great Britain with $5.7 billion. The third is the only Asian country to come ahead of a Western European nation, Korea for a total of $5.4 billion. West Germany stands next in line getting $5 billion.

Others on the list of major recipients are: Nationalist China, $4.4 billion; India, $4 billion; Turkey, $3.9 billion; Japan, $3.7 billion, and Greece, $3.4 billion.

Two nations, both enemies in WWII, on the list have come back from devastation of war to become the principal competitors of U.S. industry, West Germany and Japan.

The aid program cannot be judged on that basis, however. It is better to have economic competitors of these nations than to have them under the canopy of world communism.

One is tempted to look "scants" at the nearly $10 billion France has received, particularly in view of the recent behavior of Charles de Gaulle.

To do justice to any balanced view of DeGaulle and France would take a historical treatise beyond the scope of this column.

Hazarding oversimplifications, we would point out a few generalizations.

France and Great Britain were great competitors in the 18th Century. France represented, before 1789, the French Revolution, the strongest country in Europe and the nation which had most resisted the "new ideas." The Anciens Regime lasted longer in France. The revolution which occurred in the country was the most violent and its consequences the most far-reaching.

Great Britain, on the other hand, had, with blood-letting, moved in a more gradual way to the more liberalized ideas of some type of representative government.

The Island Kingdom in the middle of the 18th Century was the birthplace of the industrial revolution.

The American Revolution likewise occurred toward the end of that century. While there have been many affinities drawn between the War of Independence of the American Colonies and the French Revolution, the American ideas also were inherited from its industrial mother, Great Britain.

After the 18th Century, France,

Request Food In Volcano-Ravaged Bali

DENPASAR, Bali (AP)—An urgent request for rice and helicopters went out from this capital today in a desperate effort to save starving villagers isolated by a five-day deluge of lava.

The death toll from the eruption of sacred Agung vocano stood at 1,264. The governor of Bali said he expected it to rise to at least 1,500, since many persons are missing and feared dead.

More than 5,000 people were reported isolated without food in the town of Karangasem, southeast of the smoldering volcano that had been listed in tourist books as inactive.

Requested

Helicopters were requested from military authorities in East Java to ferry out people stranded in pockets surrounded by hot lava streams.

But there was no indication here whether or when the appeals could be met.

Bali's Governor Anak Agung Sutedja told the Associated Press thousands of Balinese who lost homes in the eruption may have to leave this lovely island forever.

He said 75,000 people, mostly farmers, have lost all they possessed. Another 65,000 to be evacuated as soon as possible may also become homeless.

Not a touch of green remained in the northeast village of Bekasih, five miles from the top of the 10,308-foot volcano which the Balinese believe is the home of the gods. Trees were stripped of leaves, branches caked white with volcanic dust. Terraced rice paddies lay under a smooth gray surface of brimstone.

A few people, refusing to be evacuated, silently cleared small garden plots of rocks and dug up soil in which all plants have died.

Most of the casualties were suffered during the initial eruption Sunday morning when a rain of hot ash and long tongues of lava killed hundreds.

The governor said the fiery ashes came down like a curse from Agung, the victims were roasted alive as they knelt to pray to the gods of the volcano. The temperature of the ashes was 230 degrees.

Find Second Can Of Toxic Tuna

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A second toxic can of tuna from the same pack suspected of causing the deaths of two Detroit women was found on a grocery shelf in Saratoga, Calif., the state department of health reports.

Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, department director, said a toxic substance resembling botulism was detected in the spoiled and swollen tin found on the California store's shelf.

Need To Increase Rate of Growth; Halt Unemployment

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy said today that even without a recession the unemployment rate will climb "steadily and swiftly" to 7 per cent "unless we step up our rate of growth."

Kennedy spoke of this disturbing prospect in a speech for a civic luncheon to follow his dedication of O'Hare International Airport—the world's busiest airfield.

In talking bluntly about the darkening employment outlook Kennedy appealed for approval of his proposed three-year tax cut of $10.3 billion—the first and most necessary step, he said, toward solving the employment problem.

Kennedy said his administration's "No. 1 domestic concern" is jobs "for the tidal wave of men and women now flooding our labor market." He said it stems from a combination of the revolution in agriculture, the flood of postwar babies reaching job-seeking age, and labor-saving automation.

"Unless we step up our rate of growth—unless we create a supply of jobs that is more equal to the demand—our rate of unemployment will steadily and swiftly climb to the recession levels of 7 per cent, even without a recession," he said.

A jobless rate of 7 per cent would compare with the February level of 6.1 per cent, the highest in more than a year.

In another talk, for dedication ceremonies at the sprawling airport which last year handled 13.5 million travelers, Kennedy said the United States "intends to be a leader in the supersonic age" and develop airliners that will travel three times the speed of sound, or about 2,200 miles an hour.

Once that is accomplished, he said, it will be a smaller world.

"Let us also see to it that it is

Kennedy Dedicates O'Hare Field

CHICAGO (AP) — Teeming O'Hare International Airport set aside a brief time Saturday for thinking back to the fighting in the Pacific during World War 11.

Such thoughts focused on two men who served in the Navy there.

One of them, John F. Kennedy, now President of the United States, arranged to fly in from Washington to join in the official dedication of the nation's busiest commercial airfield.

The site of the ceremony is a marble slab bearing a plaque honoring Lt. Cmdr. Edward H. O'Hare. O'Hare, after whom the airport was named, was the first naval ace of World War II. He was killed in November, 1943, near Tarawa.

City officials planned to escort President Kennedy in a motorcade down the Northwest Expressway, east on Jackson Blvd. and south Michigan Ave. to the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Kennedy was scheduled to speak to representatives of the airlines and others in the grand ballroom of the hotel.

Spokesmen for Mayor Richard J. Daley, who will share the spotlight with Kennedy, said the President's double feature appearance is part of the dedication of the airport, which was opened to commercial traffic in 1955 and now is nearing completion.

But the President's flying visit—expected to last about four hours — dovetails with the windup of Mayor Daley's campaign for re-election.

Daley is seeking a third term in the April 2 election against the challenge of Benjamin S. Adamowski, former state's attorney in Cook County.

Mysterious 'Tin-Foil' Used By SAC on Training Runs

Mysterious strips of a tin-foil like substance which have been seen drifting down from the skies in the Franklin Grove-Nachusa vicinity have caused much comment by area residents.

Some of the fluttering strips of foil dropped by a plane Friday between Nachusa and Franklin Grove were explained today by Major John Voss, information officer at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb., headquarters of the Strategic Air Command.

Major Voss said the thin aluminum strips, called drop chaff, are used as part of joint training missions for SAC bombers and jet fighters in the North American Air Defense Command. The training corridor runs from Ironwood, Mich., to Ottawa.

The chaff is released by SAC bombers at high altitudes in Radar bomb scoring missions (RBS) to confuse the radar screens at radar bases which plot the paths of intercepting fighters, Voss said.

These joint missions are carried out regularly in training new pilots and radar operators, and routine training for SAC and NADC pilots.

Voss said the chaff could easily be blown by the winds as far as Franklin Grove but apparently the planes Friday were outside the corridor limits.

He noted the chaff is non-toxic and not harmful to soil or animals.

The shiny strips are glittering on fields throughout the area today, according to Paul Clouse, Franklin Grove, truck driver for a petroleum company.

Henry John Sr., and Don John, his son, both saw the planes over their farm about 9:30 a.m. Friday. Don told the Telegraph today that the plane dropping the chaff was a jet at a high altitude. He said at first he thought the chaff was jet vapor. It was released at intervals and slowly drifted to earth.

John said several jet fighters flew over at high altitude a little later.

About three weeks ago, Herman Schafer, who lives south of Franklin Grove, reported finding some of these strips on the roof of a farm building, according to Clouse.

McNamara Says He's Saving Tears in TFX Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate source says Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, stung by a belief his integrity was being questioned in the investigation of the TFX warplane contract, wept at a closed hearing Thursday and told senators:

"My son is asking, 'When is my father going to be proved an honest man?' "

A Defense Department spokesman, brushed off as nonsense the report that McNamara had cried. He said that when the secretary was told about it, McNamara remarked he was "saving up his tears for the individual who made up the story."

The Senate source, who declined to be quoted by name, told a newsman McNamara had sobbed as he protested his integrity was being unjustly questioned and that his family had been deeply hurt by publicity surrounding the hearings.

The sources said tears streamed down the secretary's cheeks when he brought up his son's question.

No Comment

The Defense Department had no comment on McNamara's reported allusion to his son.

McNamara's son, Robert Craig, is 13. He also has two daughters, Elizabeth, 21, and Kathleen, 18.

The TFX hearings—crackling with bitter charges between the Pentagon and the Senate investigating subcommittee—have all been held behind closed doors. Transcripts of the testimony have been made public after being stripped of classified information by military censors.

McNamara's testimony of Thursday was expected to be released Friday but the subcommittee held it back, although it did make public a partial transcript of testimony Thursday by Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric.

Subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellah, D-Ark., announced that further transcripts may not be released until Monday. He gave no reason.

Own Request

McNamara went before the committee at his own request to defend his decision to award the TFX contract to General Dynamics Corp. of Fort Worth, Tex. He arrived with suitcases of data including a statement giving his own net worth—$1,278,200, mostly in common stocks and bonds.

The Defense Department said McNamara had the statement put together "because of newspaper reports that the committee's investigating staff is examining possible self-interest on the part of Pentagon officials in the award of the TFX contract."

The $24 million contract covers start of work on the aircraft, an all-purpose fighter-bomber for the Air Force and Navy. Eventually 1,700 of the planes will be built at an estimated cost of $6.5 billion.

McNamara has charged that the investigation is undermining the nation's confidence in the Pentagon leaders. Anonymous Pentagon spokes- committee members have denounced the charges.

In an earlier statement to the subcommittee McNamara defended the TFX contract, saying General Dynamics' design was selected over one offered by the Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash., because it would use more of the same components for both Air Force and Navy versions of the plane, thus saving more money.

men have also criticized it as unfair and politically motivated. The sub-

Drop Theft Counts on Two Girls

Theft charges against Rita Ann Fane, 13, 1250 N. Galena Ave., and Cindy Alexander, 13, 620 Second Ave., were dismissed Friday by Police Magistrate Lawrence E. Boos. The magistrate said Lee County State's Atty. James E. Bales had ordered the charges be dismissed.

Warrants charging the youths with the theft of an auto belonging to James Bryan, Forreston, March 12, were signed by Dixon Police Chief Earl Kelchner after the youths were returned to Dixon by their parents. The two girls and four other youths were apprehended in Holton, Kan., March 13 in a run away attempt.

Bryan refused to sign warrants against the girls because of their ages, but Kelchner felt it was necessary because of the girls accompanying the group.

Sex Offender Will Face Kidnap Charge

CHICAGO (AP) — A convicted sex offender accused of taking a 10-year-old girl from her St. Louis home to a Chicago skid row hotel has been ordered held to the U.S. District Court for removal to St. Louis to face kidnapping charges.

Police and FBI agents ended a week-long search Monday when they found Linda Sue Gulley in the hotel where Harold Jolly, 54, allegedly had taken her. Jolly surrendered to police Wednesday.

Physicians said the girl appeared unharmed.

SLEEPLESS DREAMS

EDINBURGH (AP) — The scientists kept watch as the university student paced up and down the room, kicking again and again into the empty air.

The student thought he was clearing away a swirling mass of cobwebs floating over the floor. The scientists knew it was only an illusion, produced in his brain after going 60 hours without sleep.

Dr. Ralph Berger and Dr. Ian Oswald paid six students of Edinburgh University to keep awake so their reactions could be watched and their brain waves recorded on an electrical machine.

One of the sleepless students claimed he saw an unpleasant old woman like a witch peering at him. The vision vanished as he drew near it—the body often disappearing before the face—but, when he returned around, she was there again.

Another guinea pig student, who was working with a chart, kept kissing it. He said he thought it was his girl friend.

Yet another became convinced that Dr. Berger was an enemy inquisitor trying to brainwash him.

All became perfectly normal again after one night's sleep of 12 hours.

BORROW WISELY

While our business is that of making loans for homes, we realize that we do an injustice to an individual when we enable him to borrow beyond his capacity to repay. It means much worry, sleepless nights and possible loss.

Years of experience have given us an unusual insight into the planning of a mortgage. And when we do, we are just as interested in helping a customer get out of debt as we are in loaning the money.

Delightful Weekend Is Prospect

By The Associated Press

A delightful spring weekend was in prospect for Illinois as temperatures generally headed for the highest levels of the year Saturday under sunny skies.

The mercury pushed toward the 60s in northern sections of the state and neared the 70-degree mark in the south.

Continued mild weather was forecast for Sunday with skies changing from clear to partly cloudy.

Bright, sunny weather prevailed over most of the eastern two thirds of the nation, the first weekend of spring, but cloudy skies, damp weather and chilly temperatures plagued the West.

Rain and showers fell on most of California eastward into the Plateau region. Light snow fell in the higher elevations of the north.

The Appalachian region lay under a deep snowfall. Earth slides and swollen streams which preceded Friday's snowfall hampered highway travel in West Virginia. Two feet of snow was reported in Pocahontas county with drifts up to 16 feet.

Ten inches of snow was reported in the Clarksburg and Elkins sections of West Virginia and in western Maryland.

Widely scattered showers dampened the lower Rio Grande Valley.

But most of the eastern two thirds of the country lay under bright, sunny skies with warming temperatures.

Most of the temperatures were in the 40s and 50s, and the 60s were reported in extreme southern Florida, southern Texas and the desert Southwest. Phoenix reported 71.

Step Up Relief Aid

NEW YORK—Protestant denominations of this country stepped up their overseas relief activities during the past year, assisting needy and destitute persons in forty-three nations, it was revealed today by officials of Church World Service (CWS).

CWS is the overseas relief and rehabilitation agency of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

From Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1962, CWS shipped more than a half billion pounds of food, clothing, medical supplies and equipment to all parts of the globe. Many of the shipments were to meet emergency situations arising from earthquakes, floods or other natural disasters.

Other major activities of CWS include refugee resettlement and assistance, and an ecumenical scholarship exchange program.

The latter has brought more than 600 foreign students to the U.S. for study. CWS handles 6,000 refugee resettlement cases annually.

Sunday, 94,000 Protestant congregations throughout the country will observe annual services devoted to One Great Hour of Sharing, at which time the congregations contribute toward Protestant overseas relief. This year the goal has been set at $16,846,140.

Ambush Plans May Have Been Upset

CHICAGO (AP)—A chance meeting between Richard Morrison and three lawyers may have upset plans for the shotgun ambush of the talkative burglar and saved his life.

Roswill T. Spencer, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, said Friday he believes the original plan was to have a man step out from an alley and gun Morrison down.

Police were questioning Boyd Van Scoy, 28, a convicted burglar, in the shotgunning. Detectives said they wanted to check rumors that a falling out among thieves led to the shooting. Van Scoy was at one time an associate of Morrison, police said.

Morrison, 26, set off the 1960 shakeup of the Chicago Police Department when he told of pulling burglaries with police help. Eight policemen were convicted of conspiracy to commit burglary by his testimony.

In the ambush Wednesday, Morrison's left arm was mangled by a shotgun blast from a moving auto as he walked down the street with another admitted burglar, Jerry Bossuyt. Morrison is recovering at Cook County Hospital, where he is under heavy guard.

Move Closer To Strike Settlement

NEW YORK (AP) — The nonstriking paper handlers union agreed today to a new two-year contract with publishers of the city's eight closed newspapers.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner announced the settlement after both sides conducted 17 hours of talks that lasted into the 106th day of the newspaper shutdown.

The agreement brought to six the number of unions that have reached firm or tentative settlement in the complicated dispute.

Of those six, two are still striking but their negotiators have approved proposed contracts and have urged acceptance by the membership in ratification votes to be held Sunday. The two are the printers and mailers unions, both affiliates of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. The printers rejected the same terms in a ratification vote last Sunday.

who lost in the struggle with England, has been most notable because of its troubles in the nearly 200 years since.

No colonial nation tried to assimulate the native colonial population with the master nation as France did. The French dream was to make a 100 million Frenchmen out of the natives of its provinces overseas. The dream was shattered when the first shot was fired in 1954, to set off the Algerian Revolt.

Since 1958, De Gaulle, a realist, has changed this age-old policy of France. France today is the country in Europe only.

To try another attack, De Gaulle has gone headlong into the European Common Market (ECM), and has been a rough partner in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. France is pivotal in terms of Western defenses of the continent and is also pivotal in the ECM.

Mr. De Gaulle is making the most of his strategic position in both of these respects. And all for the glory of France.

In some sense De Gaulle is fighting the game against the U. S. today that French monarchs fought against England in the years of the 18th Century.

France lost then. De Gaulle will lost this time.

a better world," he said, "A more just and peaceful world, a more promising world for our children and for their children after them."

In his luncheon address Kennedy spotlighted just one of the obstacles, unemployment, to be overcome in creating a more promising world.

Lose Work Days

The President noted, for example, that unemployed Americans last year lost one billion work days—"equivalent to shutting down the entire country with no production, no services, and no pay for over three weeks."

While saying "This nation can do better than that," he emphasized the ominous possibility of doing much worse unless effective counter measures are adopted.

"Above all," he said, "We need to release the brake of wartime tax rates which are now holding down growth at the very time we need more growth to create more jobs."

He said a $10.3 billion tax cut would "be multiplied many times in new markets, new equipment, new jobs, new payrolls, and then still more consumption and investment."

Relief Aid Totals Told

ROCKFORD—For the sixth consecutive year shipments of relief supplies overseas by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas aid agency of American Catholics, exceeded one billion pounds. The total for 1962 substantially surpassed those of any previous year. There were 2,240 shipments, comprising 1.5 billion pounds and valued at $124 million to needy areas in over 70 countries around the world.

In addition to shipping and distributing relief supplies, Catholic Relief Services, as part of its program of resettlement, assisted 30,000 Cuban refugees in finding homes and jobs in the U.S. More than 150,000 Cubans have arrived in the U.S. since Castro's communist regime took over that island three years ago. Of this total about 100,000 are registered with the refugee resettlement office of Catholic Relief Services.

The principal means supporting the manifold charitable works of Catholic Relief Services throughout the world is derived from the annual Catholic Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal. This is a collection taken up in all Catholic churches throughout the U.S. on Laetare Sunday, the middle Sunday in Lent (this year, March 24).

During the past year a total of 40 million needy persons benefited from the relief programs of Catholic Relief Services. All food, clothing, medicines and other relief supplies were distributed in the name of the American people and without regard to race, creed or color.

Killed . . .

the Draper vehicle, Nancy Galindo, 1722 Second St., and Leonard Jerrello, Dixon State School, told Popkins the Cruse auto was traveling at a high rate of speed when it passed their car.

The accident occurred at 2:45 p.m., as workers at DSS were changing shifts. A nurse and a psychiatric aide, were the first persons on the scene, after the Draper and Jerrello cars. The nurse and the aide began giving mouth to mouth resucitation and artificial respiration to Cruse. Help was summoned from DSS, but efforts to revive Cruse failed. A doctor from the institution pronounced him dead at the scene.

Popkins said the Cruse vehicle traveled 459 feet from its point of impact with the Draper auto to its final resting place. Bystanders told Popkins that the auto's motor was still running when they arrived shortly after the crash.

Popkins estimated the damage to the Draper auto at $10.

Cruse had been arrested Wednesday morning by Dixon police on a speeding charge. Officers said they clocked the Cruse car at speeds up to 65 miles per hour between the 800 and 1400 blocks of N. Galena Avenue. They also charged him with having a defective muffler on the auto. He was slated to appear before Police Magistrate Lawrence E. Boos April 4 on the charges.

Cruse's wife, Judy, 20, was taken to KSB Hospital after learning of her husband's death. Hospital officials today said she is suffering from hysteria.

Lee County Corner Robert Preston conducted an inquest this morning at the Chapel Hill Funeral Home. Testifying were Mrs. Galindo, 21, Jerrells, 20, Draper and Popkins.

Mrs. Galindo said she aided in efforts to revive Cruse. Preston asked Mrs. Galindo whether she smelled any liquor on Cruse's breath and she replied "no."

Preston commented that he had seen no evidence of drinking and that he had made a thorough examination of the auto and found no trace of any liquir. Mrs. Galindo said the McKnight youth also aided in the revival attempt and that she did not smell any liquor on his breath, either.

The coroner also denied making statement attributed to him that he had found evidence of drinking. The coroner said he had no such evidence and that he was misquoted.

Jerrels told the inquest jury there were three cars, all northbound and that his auto was the third auto in the line. Jerrells said, looking in his rear view mirror, he saw the ill-fated car approaching the rear of his auto at a high rate of speed.

Jerrells said he passed the vehicle immediately ahead of his. At the same time, Jerrells said the Cruse auto also passed the vehicle. Jerrells told the jury he increased his auto's speed to avoid being hit by the Cruse auto thanhevetaoi.. .. .. .. Cruse car. He said it appeared to him that Cruse's vehicle attempted to pull in between the lead car, or the Draper auto and his auto, but could not make it. The Cruse auto then struck the Draper car and began its erratic course.

The driver of the fourth auto was not established at the inquest, but it was established that Herb Zeien was in the vehicle.

Preston said it had been intimated at the scene that the Jerrells auto and the Cruse car had been racing. Jerrells said he was not racing with anyone.

Preston continued the inquest indefinitely, pending McKnight's release from the Hospital.

McKnight was taken to the hospital in an Allen Ambulance.

Obituary

Cruse was born the son of Earlo and Mary Love Cruse, Dec. 23, 1939, in Sparks Hill. He was married to Judy D'Hellicourt Dec. 27, 1958, in Sesser.

Survivors include his wife, Judith; his parents; two half sisters Betty Jean and Rita May Davis, Cave In Rock; two half brothers Bobby and Dwight Davis, Cave In Rock, and his maternal grandmother.

Friends may call in the Chapel Hill Funeral Home after 7 p.m. today.

The body will be taken to the Rose Funeral Home in Cave In Rock, Sunday for services and burial.

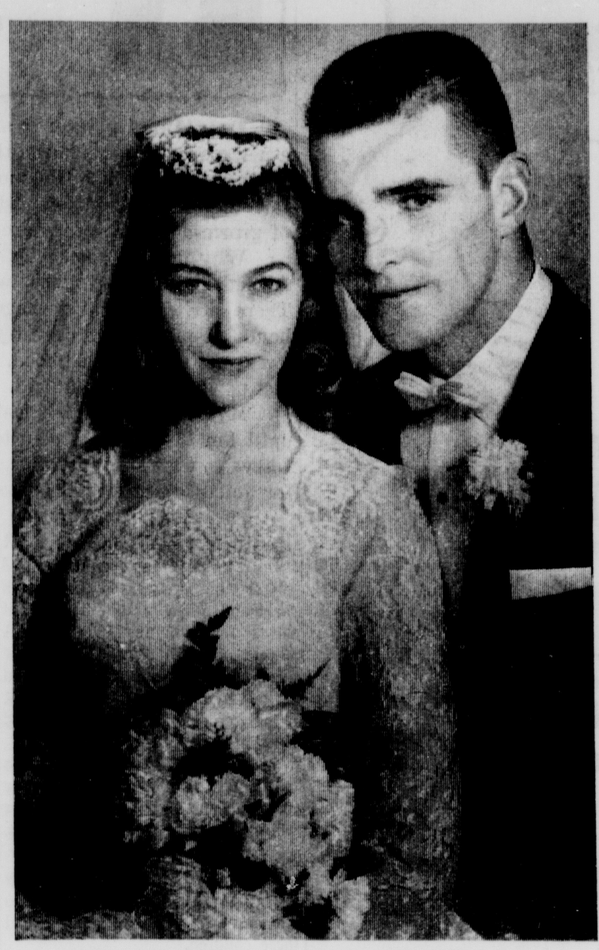
Miss Heintz, Donald Holderman Speak Vows in Lansing Ceremony

Nuptial vows were exchanged by Miss Joan Ruth Heintz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Heintz, Chicago Heights, and Donald Eugene Holderman, son of the Donald K. Holdermans, Dixon, in a March 2 ceremony held in the Grace Reformed Church, Lansing, with the Rev. John Benes, pastor of the church, officiating.



MR. AND MRS. DONALD E. HOLDERMAN

George ZaFros, Lansing, was accompanied by Mrs. ZaFros, organist, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because" for the afternoon double-ring wedding, and church decorations included arrangements of white chrysanthemums and lemon foliage and white altar candelabras holding lighted tapers.

Lace Bridal Gown

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white hand-clipped Chantilly lace designed with tapered sleeves and a sequin and pearl-trimmed scalloped neckline. Tiers of tulle and lace fashioned the gown's bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel train, and her fingertip veil of imported English illusion was attached to an open crown of waxed blossoms. Red rosebuds were combined with white carnations to form the cascading bouquet she carried.

Miss Judith Brill, Griffith, Ind., and Miss Phyllis Holderman, Dixon, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaid, and wore identical frocks of ruby French faille featuring scooped necklines, elbow length sleeves and bell-shaped street length skirts. Their headdresses were matching satin petal hats with brief attached veils and ruby tips accented the white carnations used in their colonial bouquets. Both wore opal pendants, their gifts from the bride.

John Holderman, Dixon, served as his brother's best man, and Ralph Heintz, Chicago Heights, brother of the bride, was groomsman. William Heintz, South Holland, and Martin Heintz, Chicago Heights, also the bride's brothers, ushered the wedding guests.

As flower girl for the ceremony, Miss Joan Grace Heintz, niece of the bride, wore a dress of white nylon and lace accented by a pearl necklace, her gift from the bride, and carried a white basket filled with red rose petals.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heintz chose a costume of pastel blue lace, matching blue accessories, and a pink carnation corsage. A blue harlequin print dress was worn by the bridegroom's mother with a matching jacket and black accessories, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Wedding Dinner

A wedding dinner in Teibel's Restaurant, Schererville, Ind., held following the service, was attended by 100 guests. Floral arrangements and lighted candles trimmed the dinner tables, and miniature figures of a bride and bridegroom topped the three-tiered wedding cake. Mr. ZaFros served as master of ceremonies for musical entertainment offered throughout the dinner and reception.

The corsage from her bouquet was pinned to the beige knit suit worn by the new bride with brown accessories for their wedding trip. A 1960 graduate of Thornton Fractional South High School, Lansing, she is now employed as a receptionist by the Simmons Company, Munster, Ind., where Mr. Holderman, a 1959 graduate of Dixon High School, is stationed with the Army Air Defense Command. They will reside on Rt. 1, Chicago Heights.

Guests registered at the reception traveled to Lansing for the ceremony from Dixon, South Holland, Calumet City, Mommence, and from Farmington, Iowa; Griffith, Hammond, Dyer and Gary, Ind.

Here's a Tip For Beauty

CREAM YOUR HANDS

If your home has more than one bathroom, be sure to keep a jar of hand cream in each so that you won't forget to use it after you've washed your hands after a household chore.

—o—

DON'T POWDER EYES

During an evening date, if you feel that you need a fresh application of face powder, be careful not to dull your eye make-up by powdering over it.

—o—

USE ENOUGH MAKE-UP

Don't make the mistake of applying make-up too sparingly in an attempt to achieve a natural-looking effect. The "natural look" often requires more make-up to cover every blemish and to blend the color to an even tone.

Gem-Wise
Jewelry fashions, facts, fictions

All of us seek perfection, not only in our personal lives, but in the things we buy. According to Webster, an article to be perfect must be in "a state of supreme excellence." So it is quite easy to understand why the diamond customer is so often mislead by the jeweler's use of the term "perfect" in relation to diamonds.

In jewelers parlance, and under the regulations set down by the Federal Trade Commission, in their rule 27 from "Trade Practice Rules for the Jewelry Industry" it is understood that "it is an unfair trade practice to use the word 'perfect' as descriptive of any diamond which discloses flaws, cracks, carbon spots, clouds or other blemishes or imperfections when examined in normal daylight or its equivalent, by a trained eye under a ten-power, corrected diamond eye loupe or other equal magnifier."

When judging diamond value and quality, there are four points which are universally used. These are referred to as the "four C's" — Color, Cutting, Clarity and Carat Weight. Technically, the term "perfect" only refers to the clarity factor of the diamond. Therefore, a stone so described may be of inferior color and poorly cut (with a seriously reduced value,) but according to the FTC Rule, may be called perfect as long as no internal flaws show up under 10-power magnification.

Jewelers undersand this point, but most consumers attribute the dictionary meaning to the word. Actually, if a diamond is correctly cut and polished and is of the finest color, a tiny pin-point carbon spot or inclusion seen only under powerful magnification, will not lower the value of the stone as much as will off-color or cut.

Boss of the Generals

There really is nothing unusual in the fact that Defense Secretary McNamara, long a favorite on Capitol hill, is increasingly the target of many lawmakers.

Pentagon bosses have suffered these slings and arrows since the days of the first defense secretary, the late James Forrestal, who was crushed by the criticism.

Part of the explanation lies in the mounting frustration among lawmakers over the fact there is so little they can do, relatively, to affect the course taken by our massive military establishment.

An offshoot of this is the fact that a good many legislators obviously feel themselves just as qualified as any civilian defense secretary to make judgments in military matters. Some have been appraising military affairs and expenditures far longer than the most experienced defense secretary.

Indeed, occasionally some senator or congressman has talked as if he really felt himself quite able to make the kind of judgments we expect from our generals and admirals themselves.

Lately a newer element has crept into the picture. Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater and some others have suggested that it is wrong for a defense secretary to veto the recommendations of our Joint Chiefs of Staff, or any group of top military officials.

The argument is that the military people are the experts, and no civilian official ought sensibly to consider overruling their most thoughtful judgments.

If this argument is to be taken seriously, then plainly we do not need or want a civilian defense secretary. For he presides over an establishment that presumably is made up of military experts. If their views are automatically to prevail, then the best thing is to have one of them as secretary.

But did we not argue this whole matter out in the fullest kind of debate when the defense department was created after World War II?

A prime issue was civilian control of the military. The decision, made in Congress itself, was that such control was vital.

The contention in support of this decision was that the military cannot be allowed to operate as an entity wholly apart from civilian authority.

Military judgments are special. They are made in consonance with what are deemed the crucial needs and purposes of the services. This is all to the good.

But those judgments cannot be made in a vacuum. The military, however special, functions in service to the civilian state. It is a part of it. What it spends, what weapons systems it employs, how it is organized, these and many matters must be decided in relation to the whole society in which it exists.

It having already been decided, therefore, that we should have civilian management of defense, it is alien to that purpose to suggest the defense secretary should have no power of veto over what generals and admirals want.

Authority is the power to say no as well as yes, to give guidance and direction, to exercise restraints, to reorganize and so on.

Those who propose that McNamara or anyone in his shoes should be stripped of any portion of this authority can hardly do less, honestly, than reopen the entire question of civilian control of the military. If this is what they desire, let's get into it without delay.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: It seems like every time I pick up a newspaper or a magazine these days there is an article on "The Plot To Abolish Childhood." Parents are being verbally tarred and feathered for pushing their children into a world of grown-ups before they are ready.

Why doesn't somebody write an article "The Plot To Abolish Adulthood?" This would help us teenagers a lot. There are plenty of teenagers who are suffering at the hands of parents who are trying to keep us babies forever. Everyone needs a childhood, Miss Landers, but it shouldn't last until we're 50 years old.

My mother told me last night I can't wear make-up until I'm 21—unless I plan to go on the stage. This means I have to wait six years. She seems to think make-up is only for actresses. Dating is out of the question.

Please say something in your column about this unfair treatment. — A CHILD FOREVER

Dear Child: I don't know how old you are, but I've seen teenagers with make-up so heavy they look as if they're ready for the TV cameras. A 15-year-old should be able to use powder and lipstick, and she should be able to date once or twice a week if her grades are respectable and she can read a wrist watch.

The best way for a teenager to get "adult" privileges is by behaving in a responsible, mature manner which suggests he can handle them.

Dear Ann Landers: For many years I knew a married couple who did not get along well. They had three children.

The woman divorced her husband and the court awarded the children to her. The husband is a fine man and wanted to keep the children. In this state, however, unless the husband can prove his wife is an out-and-out tramp, the children are awarded to the mother.

I have indisputable evidence—precisely what the husband needs—proving the woman is an unfit mother. Now I'm unable to decide whether or not to turn this evidence over to the husband.

I am searching my heart for the answer and I can't find it. This woman once did me a very dirty trick and I'm afraid deep down I may be wanting to get even with her. Revenge is sweet but will I hate myself after I've had my revenge?

—AN EYE FOR AN EYE

Dear Eye: Your decision should be based on what would be best for the children. Under whose roof will they have a better chance to grow up straight and strong? Who can give them time, attention, love, and discipline?

I doubt that you are equipped to answer these questions objectively. Let your clergyman decide.

Dear Ann Landers: I like the confidentials at the end of your column. They are intriguing and it's a challenge to figure out the problem from your answer.

Recently in a confidential you made a Biblical reference which had to do with casting pearls to the swine. Will you please tell me where in the Scriptures this can be found? I thought I knew the Bible pretty well but this line was new to me.

Thanks, Ann, for all the joy you bring and for all the good you do.

—MAIN STREET

Dear Main: The swine line is from the Book of Matthew, Chapter 7 Verse 6:

"Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you."

Tournament Sidelights

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Pairings and records for today's semi-final round in the Illinois State High School Basketball Tournament:

Centralia (31-1) vs. Springfield Lanphier (28-4) 12:15 p.m.

Peoria Central (22-6) vs. Carver (25-5) 2 p.m.

Losers meet for third place at 7 p.m.

Winners meet for championship at at 8:45 p.m.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The two sessions played in the University of Illinois' new Assembly Hall, a mammoth and spacious structure, drew a total of 31,752 persons Friday.

This compares with 12,190 which Huff Gym, the previous site of the tourney, could handle in two sessions —a difference of 19,562.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Officials of the Illinois High School Association drew a sigh of relief after Springfield Lanphier ousted Rockford Auburn from the prep basketball tournament Friday, 58-56.

Because of the question concerning Jasper Robinson's correct age, it became possible that if Auburn won the title and Robinson ultimately was ruled ineligible, the IHSA then might have had to declare the title vacant.

With that possibility having ended, all that remains is for the Ottawa Appellate Court to rule whether or not Robinson reached the age of 19 before or after the Dec. 10 deadline.

Robinson claimed he wasn't 19 until last Dec. 19. The IHSA said he reached the limit before Dec. 10. A Circuit Court ruled in Robinson's favor and the IHSA then appealed the case.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Craig Alexander of Peoria Central and Bob Johansen of Geneva, each with a two-game total of 48 points, are tied for the scoring leadership in the Illinois high school basketball finals.

Johansen is out of further competition but Alexander gets a chance to fatten his total againt Chicago Carver today.

The next leading scorers are Joe Allen of Carver with 40, Ron Johnson of Centralia, 39, and Mike Rodgerson of Springfield Lanphier, 36.

Temple Glad He Didn't Quit

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP) — Johnny Temple was seriously considering retiring from baseball last spring after he was traded by Cleveland to Baltimore. He was convinced he had reached the end when the Orioles sent him to Houston last August.

It took a strong selling job by Colt Manager Harry Craft to change his mind. Now the veteran second baseman is glad he did. All thoughts of retiring have vanished from his mind.

"You know what did it?" Temple asked. "The kids on this ball club. They're making me young again. I've never seen such eagerness, such enthusiasm, such vigor, such spirit, such talent. Their spirit is contagious."

An elder statesman at the age of 33, Temple is expected to share the second base assignment with George Williams, a 23-year-old who has only a handful of big league games under his belt. It is Craft's plan to open the season with Temple and supplant him with the rookie when the veteran begins to show signs of tiring.

"I feel like I'm going to surprise a lot of people this year," Temple said. "If my legs keep on feeling like they do now, I should be able to play as many games as any second baseman in the league. Why not? There are older fellows than me playing every day."

Temple batted .262 for the Colts in 1962 and credited by Manager Craft as being an inspirational leader in the Colts' strong finish. With John in the line-up and contributing key hits and defensive gems, the Colts won 19 of their last 33 games.

Friars Drive For Second NIT Title

NEW YORK (AP)—The Providence Friars, riding a 14-game winning streak, drive for their second National Invitation Basketball Tournament title in three years today against Canisius at Madison Square Garden.

The Griffins, one of the smallest teams in the nation, counter with great defense and some sharp shooters of their own.

And Canisius beat Providence 80-75 in January.

The game will be played at 4 p.m. EST, and televised nationally via tape at 6 p.m. on NBC

Marquette and Villanova will meet for third place in the 12team festival at 2 p.m.

Providence captured the NIT, now in its 26th year, in 1961.

Moore's Chances Poor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former featherweight champion Davey Moore battled long odds today in his fight to survive brain damage. California's Governor Edmund G. Brown meanwhile called for abolishment of professional boxing in this state.

A team of consulting physicians indicated little hope for Moore, who lost his 126-pound title Thursday night and lapsed into a coma an hour after losing by a knockout to Sugar Ramos of Mexico City.

"His prognosis is poor," the physicians reported Friday night after examining the unconscious boxer. "He still fails to respond to painful stimuli and is in a deep coma."

Severe Bruises

Moore suffered bruises in the brain stem area at the lower base of his skull. Although the physicians did not estimate odds on recovery, a spokesman at White Memorial Hospital said a condition of "fair" would have given Davey only a 50-50 chance.

In Sacramento, Brown declared: "The Davey Moore fight is one more illustration that boxing is a brutal sport even under ideal conditions—if it can be called a sport."

He said he would ask the legislature to submit a constitutional amendment to the voters in 1964 to outlaw boxing in California. The state constitution specifies a vote is required to abolish professional boxing and wrestling.

The 29-year-old Moore, of Columbus, Ohio, father of five children ranging in age from 2 to 11, was knocked down twice in the 10th round at Dodger Stadium.

Helpless

As the round ended Davey was helpless over a rope and his manager, Willie Ketchum, called a halt despite Moore's protestations that he was all right. He talked with newsmen for 40 minutes, and then ,after they left, he complained of a severe headache, fainted and slipped into the coma.

Moore's tragedy came just two days less than a year after Benny (Kid) Paret was fatally injured in losing his welterweight title to Emile Griffith in New York, and six months ago to the day that Argentine heavyweight Alejandro Lavorante was knocked unconscious in a Los Angeles bout.

Lavorante, who underwent brain operations, remains in a coma.

Surgery was not contemplated in Moore's case because of the area of injury and because there was no hemorrhaging.

Bearcats, Loyola Meet Tonight For Nation's Title

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"I haven't even thought about Loyola," Cincinnati coach Ed Jucker said Friday night after his top-ranked Bearcats methodically put away Oregon State 80-46 to keep alive their chances for an unprecedented third straight National Collegiate Basketball championship.

Chances are Jucker will have done plenty of thinking by the time mighty Cincinnati faces racehorse Chicago Loyola tonight in the nationally televised title game at 9:30 p.m., EST.

The Ramblers of George Ireland are that good, and every one of the 19,153 fans who packed Freedom Hall for the semifinals knows it after watching them shatter the 20-game winning streak of Duke's second-ranked Blue Devils, 94-75.

With remarkable balance, great jumpers and sharp shooters, third-ranked Loyola bolted into a 17-point lead before Duke knew what happened, and blazed away to safety in the last 3½ minutes after Art Heyman and Jeff Mullins had fired the desperate Blue Devils within three points, 74-71.

The relentless pressure and remarkable poise that enabled Cincinnati to take another step toward basketball history while defensing football ace Terry Baker into total frustration was anticlimatic to the crowd-pleasing show of the Ramblers.

With Les Hunter and Vic Rouse, a pair of 6-foot-7 former high school teammates in Nashville, Tenn., and All-America Jerry Harkness doing the big job, the Ramblers looked like powerful threats to Cincinnati's basketball empire.

Loyola takes the nation's top-ranking offense, now at 92.9 points a game, against Cincinnati's best-in-the-nation defensive average of 52.6. All five starters for the Ramblers once again hit double figures in the semifinals with Hunter getting 29 points, Harkness 20, Ron Miller 18, John Egan 14 and Rouse 13.

Coaches Disagree Over Victories In NBA Playoffs

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Detroit Pistons' coach Dick McGuire and St. Louis pilot Harry Gallatin disagree over Friday night's Hawk win over the Pistons, 122-108, in the Western Division semifinal National Basketball Association playoffs.

"I still think we got a better club," McGuire said.

"We would like to wrap it up Sunday," Gallatin said.

Gallatin's Hawks hold a 2-0 edge in the best of five series. St. Louis stopped the Pistons twice at home. They travel to Detroit Sunday for the third game in the series.

Bob Pettit, who scored 42 points to lead both clubs, and veteran Cliff Hagan led a 43-point last quarter attack for the Hawks.

Saturday night, Cincinnati takes up the Eastern Division NBA playoffs at Syracuse to break a 1-1 tie in their best-of-5 series.

Besides the St. Louis-Detroit game, Syracuse plays at Cincinnati Sunday.

Bryant, Butts Admit Talks About Rules Violations

ATLANTA (AP)—Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama and former Georgia Athletic Director Wallace Butts say they discussed possible rules violations by Bryant's team over the telephone prior to the 1962 football game between their schools.

Details of telephone conversations were given Friday by Butts and Bryant for the first time since the Saturday Evening Post charged them with collusion in the Sept. 22 game which Alabama won 35-0.

Both have repeatedly denied the charges.

They issued statements after disclosure that Dr. Frank Rose, University of Alabama president, had written in a letter that Bryant said he received information from Butts about Georgia plays.

Discussed Techniques

However, Rose said his letter—written March 6 to Dr. O. C. Aderhold, University of Georgia president—dealt in layman's language with discussions of changes in techniques by Bryant.

"In my letter I say they discussed offensive and defensive 'plays.' The appropriate phrase should have been, and still remains, 'techniques,'" Rose said.

"The conversation, of course, was the interpretation of these changes by Coach Butts, who was at the time, and had been for a long period a member of the rules committee of the Southeastern Conference," Rose said.

The university official said he was confident Bryant "was not involved in any attempt to rig or fix the game with Georgia or any other universities.

"And even more particularly, the implication that he bet on any ball games is wholly false and without any foundation in fact.

"My letter to Dr. Aderhold was not intended to suggest from coach Bryant's statement to me that he gained secret information from coach Butts."

Rose said he regarded Butts' statement to Bryant only as a warning against rules infractions "which would prevent injury to a player and another incident as in the Georgia Tech-Alabama game of 1961."

Causes Injury

In that game, an Alabama player struck an opponent in the face with his elbow, causing serious injury. The Alabama player said it was accidental.

In his letter to Aderhold, Rose quoted Bryant as saying Butts warned in a telephone conversation of Sept. 14 that some Georgia plays might result in penalties against Alabama's defense; that Alabama center Lee Jordan might be expelled from the game and that a Georgia player might be hurt seriously.

Bryant declined comment on the letter, which Aderhold said had been subpoenaed. Several investigations are under way as a result of the Post charges.

The Post said an Atlanta insurance salesman, George Burnett, accidentally intercepted a call Sept. 14 and heard Butts give Bryant detailed information on Georgia offensive plans. Both Butts and Bryant have denied the charge.

CHAMPAIGN—Centralia's Orphans and Chicago Carver's Challengers, both favored to win Friday, scored quarter-final round victories in the University of Illinois' new Assembly Hall. Two other favorites, Decatur's Reds and Rockford Auburn, were beaten in opening round play.

Centralia outran Metropolis in the kick-off game of the tourney, 74-45 and Chicago Carver took advantage of Geneva's mistakes to take home a 57-50 victory.

Rockford Auburn, the pre-tournament favorite for the crown, lost on a lay-up by Calvin Pettit of Springfield Lanphier with two seconds remaining, 58-56.

Decatur, the 1961-62 champs, fell to Peoria Central in the first quarter-final round game Friday night, 60-45.

The line-up for this afternoon will see Centralia take on Springfield Lanphier in the first game at 12:15 p.m. Peoria Central meets Carver in the second game at the afternoon session.

The championship game of the two-day tournament is slated for Saturday night following the consolation game beginning at 7 p.m.

Centralia vs. Metropolis

Centralia's Orphans, using good speed, powered their way past the Metropolis Trojans here Friday afternoon in the first quarterfinal round game of the Illinois state tourney, 74-45.

Metropolis took the first lead in the 1:15 p.m. contest. Six-foot-one John Turner pushed one through with barely seconds expired on the new Assembly Hall clock.

Cliff Berger of Centralia hit a short jump shot from the side to knot the score at 2-2 and then put the Orphans on top, 4-2, with another short jumper. Ron Johnson gave the Centralia five a four-point spread with a driving lay-up.

Mike Stafford and Turner tied the score at 6-6 but senior Carl Heinrichsmeyer put the Orphans back on top to stay with a rebound tip-in, 8-6.

The Orphans pushed on to an 18-10 lead at the end of the first period and took a 38-19 advantage to the dressing rooms at halftime.

Centralia added nine more to the gap in the third period as Don Duncan and Heinrichsmeyer found the range. Duncan tallied 14 points in the period while Heinrichsmeyer scored 10.

Both teams played on even terms in the last period as reserves dotted both lineups. The Orphans shot at hot .429 clip from the field and grabbed off 53 rebounds. The Trojans hit .302 fro mthe field for the game after hitting .267 from the floor during the first half.

Don Duncan of Centralia took game scoring honors with 22 points. Heinrichsmeyer added 18 points to the Orphans' total while Ron Johnson also hit in the double figures with 16 points. All three are seniors. Top scorer for the losing Metropolis Trojans was senior Steve Woodward with 13 tallies. Mike Stafford was second high for the Trojans with 10.

The victory gives Centralia a 31-1 mark going into the state semi-finals today. Metropolis ended the season with a 26-5 mark. Bob Jones of Centralia and Don Smith of Metropolis are in their first year of coaching at the schools.

Rockford vs. Springfield Lanphier

Calvin Pettit's lay up with two seconds to go in the final stanza spelled defeat for Rockford Auburn Knights in the quarter-final round of the Illinois Tourney, 58-56.

The Knights outhit the Springfield Lions from the floor 25 to 17 but fouled themselves out of the state meet. Rockford committed 19 fouls compared to Lanphier's eight personals.

Lanphier made good on 24 of 30 attempts while the Knights dumped in six of nine charity tosses.

Rockford led four times in the first half. Larry Croft, a 5-11 senior for the Knights, put Rockford ahead 1-0 on the first play of the game. Springfield then came back to take the lead on a bucket and free throws by senior forward Les Coat.

Jasper Robinson of Rockford put the Knights back in front with a free throw, 5-3, with 6:17 left in the first period.

Springfield regained the margin on a short jump shot by Calvin Pettit, 7-6. Croft again hit for the Knights to give them the advantage, 8-7.

Springfield took the lead with 3:12 remaining in the first quarter and held it the rest of the first half with Rockford trailing at one point by seven tallies. Lanphier led at half-time.

Rockford knotted the game at 38-38 with 2:16 remaining in the third period and then scored nine points in the last two minutes while the Lions could find the range for only one on a charity toss.

Springfield tallied 19 points in the last period to Rockford's nine to take home the victory. Pettit's shot with two seconds to go in the game proved to be the difference.

Springfield shot .436 from the field and grabbed off 23 rebounds while Auburn hit a hot .543 from the floor and had 20 rebounds.

Pettit of Springfield was high point man for the game with 21. Jasper Robinson was tops for the losers with 20.

The victory gives Springfield a 28-4 record going into today's semi-final round games. Rockford ended the season with a 28-3 slate.

Decatur vs. Peoria Central

Decatur's Reds failed to remain in contention for their second straight Illinois state basketball title as they lost to Peoria Central Lions Friday night, 60-45.

Central, behind the hot shooting of 6-5 senior center Craig Alexander, led the Reds all of the way except for the opening seconds.

Alexander paced the Lion scoring attack by dropping in 30 points with 18 points coming in the first half.

Peoria held quarter leads of 10-8, 26-19, and 36-27.

The winning club shot .441 from the floor and grabbed off 31 rebounds. Decatur hit for a .346 percentage and collected 29 rebounds.

Peoria's Alexander dropped in nine of 18 field goal tries and 12 of 15 free throws for his 30 points. Bob Warnsley, a sophomore forward, was high for the losing Reds with 10 points. Jack Sunderlik and Dennis Alldridge had eight points apiece for the losers.

Peoria's victory in the quarter-finals gives them a 22-6 record so far while the Decatur Reds finished up their 1962-63 season with a final mark of 25-6.

Chicago Carver vs. Geneva

The Challengers of Chicago Carver took advantage of their height and miscues by the Geneva Vikings to win their quarter-final battle, 57-50.

Geneva, the Little David of the tourney, took the early lead but fell behind in the first quarter, 11-9.

The Challengers added four more to their margin in the second quarter and took a 28-22 margin at half-time.

Carver pushed the gap to 13 in the third period and held two Viking rallies in the final quarter to take the seven point win.

The loss was only the third this season for the game Geneva Vikings. They ended the season with 30 victories. Carver now has 25 victories against five defeats.

Bob Johansen of Geneva was high point man for the game with 24 points. Joe Allen of Carver was second high with 18 tallies. Geneva's big stumbling block of the game was free throws. Chicago shot .447 from the field while Geneva had a .413 mark.

Nicholson Belting Homers For Sox; Feels More Relaxed

By The Associated Press

While bewildered bonus baby Dave Nicholson was struggling through his baseball apprenticeship, everyone was pinning can't miss labels on his chest and measuring his biceps. Now he's got the Chicago White Sox measuring his homers.

The change for the strapping right-handed swinger started when he "exhausted his potential in Baltimore" and was shipped to Chicago in an off-season trade. Since he's been in the White Sox line-up, he's done nothing but exhaust opposing pitchers.

A 6-foot, 215-pounder, Nicholson, 23, smashed a tape-measure homer off Minnesota's Camilo Pascual Friday, the blast carrying almost 500 feet and staring the White Sox on to a 5-4 exhibition triumph over the Twins at Sarasota. It was his fourth homer of the spring.

Nicholson, a two-year veteran at riding the bench, feels more relaxed with the White Sox. He figures he was overcoached at Baltimore, where he hit .173 in 97 games last year.

Other trade acquisitions also turned in solid performances Friday.

Shortstop Luis Aparicio, who went to Baltimore in the trade involving Nicholson, singled home the decisive run as the Orioles whipped the New York Yankees 7-6 at Miami. Larry Burright, boosting his average to .500, second baseman acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers, collected two homers and a pair of singles in the New York Mets' 6-2 decision over Washington at Pompano Beach.

Elsewhere, the Los Angeles Angels won their eighth in a row by beating San Francisco 6-4 at Palm Springs, St. Louis edged Detroit 4-3 in 12 innings at St. Petersburg, Boston whipped Cleveland 7-3 at Tucson, Milwaukee belted Kansas City 10-6 at Bradenton, Houston edged the Chicago Cubs 8-7 at Mesa and Philadelphia nipped Cincinnati 4-3 at Tampa.

The other teams were not scheduled.

Snead, Young Vet Leading Doral Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An old-timer with a pain in his foot and another comparatively young veteran of the golf tour, led the way into today's third round of the $50,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament.

With 36 holes to go, more than a score of players still were in shooting range of the $9,000 top prize. Only six strokes separated the first 26 contenders, and the rear guard in the surviving field of 80 pros was only 11 strokes off the pace.

Sam Snead, the 50-year-old "Slammer" of an earlier era, walked painfully because of a lump under the skin of his right foot which has not yet been diagnosed.

Still Slammin' Sam showed some of his old skill as he belted a 69 that put him in a tie for the 36-hole lead with Paul Harney, a 33-year-oid "veteran" at 140 strokes. That was four under par for the 7,028-yard Doral Country Club course.

Gene Littler, the No. 2 money winner of 1962 who still is looking for his first big payday this year, was on a shot behind. Just two strokes off the pace stood the always dangerous Arnold Palmer and Ted Kroll.

Gary Player shot a 71 and 74 to tie for ninth place at 145.

Harney, back on the tour after a two months layoff, shot a par 72 Friday but his first round 68 kept him on top. Littler muffed a chance to join Snead and Harney in first place when he missed a 3-foot putt on the 18th green.

Sports in Brief

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—Kelso heads a field of seven starters today in the $100,000-added John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie race course.

The weather bureau predicted sunny skies and 50-degree temperatures for the closing of the 40-day meeting. Post time will be about 4:50 p.m. EST.

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—One of the 65 cars screaming away from the starting line at 10 a.m., EST today will cross it again at 10 o'clock tonight as over-all winner of the Sebring 12-hour Grand Prix of Endurance automobile race.

To the drivers of this car will go the victor's laurels, top prize money of around $5,000 and the knowledge of a job well done.

To the builder will go the coveted points toward the World Manufacturer's Championship.

In Europe, automobile manufacturers use these standings to sell cars to the public.

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Australia's Betty Cuthbert, a triple gold medal winner at the 1956 Olympics, surpassed her own world record time for the 440-yard run today with a 53.3 second clocking in the Australian Women's Track and Field Championships.

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A tremendous assault on the record book with no letup in sight, and Roy Saari's attempt to score a triple featured Today's National AAU indoor swimming show.

During the past three days, American records have been lowered in all 11 races and it could be a perfect 14 when the four-day competition ends tonight in Yale's 25-yard pool.

Saari, a Southern California freshman with 24 hours rest and the successful defender so far of his 500-yard and 1650-yard freestyle grinds, took aim today at his 200-yard freestyle title.

He was a solid favorite to take it.

NATIONAL FACTS

FRAMING — All framing lumber is standard grade West Coast Hemlock or coastal region Douglas Fir; kiln dried or 19% maximum moisture content. All framing above windows, doors, or other openings is engineered and designed by National Homes Corporation to meet or exceed all requirements of national and local building codes. It has been tested and approved by such organizations as the Midwest Conference of Building Officials, Building Officials Conference of America, International Conference of Building Officials, and the New York State Building Code Commission. By use of the Sanford truss all roof loading may be carried to exterior walls thus allowing for maximum flexibility of floor plan. Use of these modern engineering techniques make framing methods of the past as obsolete as the Model T.
